

ETTORE CARCIONE – Geolog International

Ettore is a senior professional of the industry with over 30 years' experience. He possesses a MSc in Geology and has worked both for Oil Field Services and Oil & Gas companies.

Passionate for the O&G industry he has always operated with high professionalism in the evolving world of the fossil energy and served as mentor for the young generations.

Today he is ready to get the challenge in the energy transition world, looking with a critical but positive thought to the whole process evolution to give a personal contribution to a sustainable future for the young generation.