

AHMED AMER – Newpark Drilling Fluids

Ahmed Amer is Newpark's Product Line Director for Digital Solutions supporting software initiatives that enhance the customer experience by providing insights through analytics.

Ahmed's career spans over 15 years during which he held field, operational, technical and R&D roles in fluids and pressure control domains.

Ahmed is an SPE Distinguished Lecturer. He is also a member of API Subcommittee 13, Chairman of the 2020 AADE Fluids Conference and is the Vice Chairman for AADE Fluids Management Group. At industry events, he has participated as a judge, steering committee member, session chair, reviewer, panelist and presenter.

Ahmed has served as an advisor to two graduate university programs, holds IP, has authored 25 publications including classes to SPE regional chapters in the field of lost circulation and deepwater. Ahmed holds a BSc from Cairo University and is a certified Project Management Professional.
